SENATE HOPING TO SPEED TRIAL OF WALTON NOW

Hearing of Testimony on Separate Charges Would Be, Lengthy.

TRUCK USE PROBED

Federal Authority Seeking New Angle in Use of Government Trucks.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY: Nov. 5.—The possibility that the trial of Gov. J. C. Walton before the senate court of impeachment might end this week was indicated in the expression today of several members of the senate anxious to avoid a lengthy hearing. A vote upon one of the 22 articles of impeachment if presented with the evidence, would make possible a brief session if the executive were found guilty it was pointed out.

Members of the house board of managers in charge of the prosecution have thus far planned to present all evidence supporting the 22 charges before asking the senate court for a vote. This procedure would necessitate a large number of witnesses being called by the prosecution and probably numerous witnesses by the defense.

"We are here to try Gov. Walton and pass upon anti-Ku Klux legislation," one senator said today. Of course if the governor is not guilty of anyone of the charges all testimony would have to be heard and the trial necessarily long drawn out."

If testimony is taken on all charges the trial probably would continue more than a month.

Probe In Truck Use.

Committee investigations by the house over the week end are understood to have produced testimony, indicating that trucks turned over to the state by the federal government were used for purposes not directly related to state activities. One state official, according to the report testimony, used a truck as a deposit on the purchase of his own automobile.

Barbecue meat is alleged to have been hauled to Gov. Walton's famous inaugural in federal trucks, according to testimony said to have been taken by the committee.

J. G. Findlay, federal bureau investigator, has asked the house committee for copies of its testimony, which was furnished him, it was stated.

Inquiry is also being directed to the charge that a truck was used to haul supplies from the state penitentiary to the United Mine Workers celebration at Hartshorn on labor day, a committee member said.

OFF-YEAR ELECTIONS SLATED FOR STATES

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Off-year elections to be held in scattering states tomorrow has aroused but little interest.

The principal election from a national standpoint is in Vermont where Porter H. Dale, republican, and Park H. Pollard, democrat, and a cousin to President Coolidge, are candidates to succeed the late Senator Dillingham.

Vermont also will choose one representative in Congress while New York will elect four representatives to fill vacancies. Maryland, Kentucky and Mississippi will elect governors.

Elections of members of state legislatures will be held in New York, New Jersey and Maryland. New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio will hold referendums on state measures.

The only election of consequence in the west is in Oregon where a referendum on a state income tax measure, similar to the federal income tax law, will be voted upon.

A number of states will vote for minor officers and many cities in the East will elect mayors.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Ambassador Jusserand will verbally communicate to Secretary of State Hughes the attitude of the French government on the reparations negotiations governing himself by his talk with Premier Poincaré before he sailed and by information sent the French embassy in Washington since he will deliver no note, it was said at the foreign office today. The latest instructions from the Quai d'Orsay were forwarded Saturday.

Ada is Winner in First Lap of Six-Weeks Class Contest

The first lap of the six-weeks contest for attendance between the Men's Bible Class of the First Christian church of Ada and a men's class at Elk City was culminated to the advantage of the local class when the attendance yesterday showed that the Ada class had 115 percent and the Elk City class had only 71.

Those sponsoring the contest here are well pleased with the first result of the contest but vouch for a larger attendance next Sunday.

President A. Linschied of the College, as teacher of the class, has aroused considerable interest over his Sunday morning messages.

A silver loving cup will be presented to the winning class from the losing class at the end of the contest.

INSURANCE BONUS AT PERIOD CLOSE

Employees of Local Company to be Presented Paid-up Insurance.

Twenty-four employees of the Oklahoma Gas and Electric company here will receive without cost a $500 life insurance policy in an old line insurance company at the completion of six month's employment today in the company, it was announced this morning by J. N. Garrison, district manager.

Garrison made the announcement today as the present ownership of the Ada property completed six months of operation of the local properties.

Other employees in this district will also receive the benefits of the employees group insurance arrangement offered by the Oklahoma Gas and Electric company. Eleven employees at Holdenville, seven at Sulphur, thirteen at Pauls Valley, several at Shawnee and three others for smaller towns in the district will share in the benefits of the arrangement made by the company.

While today marks the close of six months of operation of the local properties by the Oklahoma Gas and Electric, several others employed in the office and plant here will be automatically included on the list when the six months of their service expires.

The $500 insurance policy will be automatically increased to $1,000 when the employee completes a year's service with the company. This amount remains fixed throughout the period of service in the company and bears the face value of an ordinary life insurance policy.

ASHES OF BONAR LAW PLACED FOR BERTH OF HONOR

LONDON; Nov. 5.—The ashes of Andrew Bonar Law, who was for seven months prime minister of Great Britain, and perhaps the most modest man upon whom that honor ever was conferred, were entombed today in Westminster Abbey. In this shrine where the nation holds its most sacred rituals, both solemn and happy, was filled with a company of over 3,000 persons representing all the more important and prominent element of the British world. There were members of the royal family, several hundred members of the two houses of parliament, and members of the army, navy, judiciary and civil service.

CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM FOR BYNG PLANT SOON

Repairs and improvements to the extent of $100,000 will be launched within the next few days on the Byng plant for the supply of electrical current for service over this district, according to I. N. Garrison, district manager.

In connection with the improvements at the Byng plant, several thousand dollars will be spent in building and re-building a high line to Shawnee and thence to the Harrah plant for a more complete service to the properties affected.

Two new boilers will be installed at the Byng plant to increase the voltage capacity from that source and insure a maximum supply for the high line properties.

The material for the construction work has arrived at Ada and the erector of the new boilers is expected here soon to start construction work.

Poison mixed in paraffin is now used as a wood preservative.

Milk Producer's Convention To Discuss Co-operative Measures

PITTSBURG, PA., Nov. 5.—One thousand leaders of co-operative milk producers' associations will come to Pittsburgh for the seventh annual meeting of the National Milk Producers' Federation, November 8 and 9. They will discuss chiefly how to produce economically and distribute efficiently a high quality milk supply to the cities of America. They will also take up such questions as the national distribution through co-operative associations of butter, cheese and evaporated milk. In addition to the delegates a large number of agricultural editors and officials of federal and state extension services will attend.

"We have selected a battery of speakers nationally known for their knowledge of these problems," said Secretary Charles W. Holman of Washington, D. C., who is here making arrangements for the convention. "These men will give the results of mature experience. The program covers a range of topics such as the control of motor trucking of milk, the use of statistics by co-operative associations in selling dairy products, maintaining an efficient staff of employees, how to operate pooling associations and the development of co-operative dairy marketing in various districts during the year."

The national federation is said to be the outstanding national organization among co-ops in this country and the oldest. It extends from coast to coast and represents 250,000 organized milk producers who sell their products through 27 regional co-operative associations in addition to statewide federations representing about 200 co-operative creameries as a member.

Through co-operative marketing, established regionally, and through national protective organization, represented by the federation, they have taken steps to aid the dairy farmers.

The National Milk Producers' Federation took the initiative in securing the passage of the Capper-Volstead law authorizing farmers' co-operative associations to form and do business in interstate commerge, according to Holman. It saved hundreds of millions to dairy farmers and growers of cotton seed, flax seed, corn and hogs by its work on the tariff bill. Much of this work was to protect American producers from a flood of Oriental vegetable oils which were threatening to put American producers out of business. And it took the lead in destroying the interstate traffic in filled milk.

Jurors were selected during the morning and the petition of the plaintiffs was being read to the jury at an early hour this afternoon. Several days is expected to be required to settle the suit.

Allegations set out in the statement of the action, charge that a cotton compress at Oklahoma City was destroyed March 29, 1921 and with it 8,500 bales of cotton were destroyed in the flames, estimated to approximate a value of $580,000 at the market price of that time.

The suit alleges that the compress was fired from sparks from a Katy railroad engine.

The plaintiffs in the suit are represented by the firm of Rittenhouse and Rittenhouse of Oklahoma City, King and Crawford of Ada and G. O. Grant of Fort Smith.

The defendants are represented by Attorney Smith of Muskogee and Attorney Haven of Dallas, who is a representative of a railroad insurance agency.

This is the first matter to be brought to trial in the regular session of civil district court before Judge Bolen. A total of 98 cases are listed on the docket for the setting.

The two air men appeared more like college athletes competing for a new broad jump record, than men casually risking their life and limb in a mad race through the air.

Under a fair Indian summer sky the two planes of bright marine blue were wheeled out on the field, Williams climbing into his seat and in a few seconds was in the air. When he landed he had captured Brown's laurels. Brown shook hands, offered congratulations and then hopped into his own shop. When he descended, it was Williams' turn to dispense the congratulations.

Like College Athletes. "I will have to take it away from you again tomorrow, Harold" he said. Then he jumped into a bigger ship for an exhibition flight over the Bronx, from which he hails. But the lure of the game was too much for him, and the home folks had to wait. He craned his neck out of the cockpit, looking at the almost cloudless sky, and then leaped to the ground, tearing off his uniform coat. In shirt-sleeves and with only a helmet, he climbed into his racer again.

As he went and when he came down, he was again champion.

"Great work, Al," cried Brown.

"Well, Harold, you're having a lot of fun anyway," replied his rival as the two clasped hands.

Hunted Man Turns on Marshal After Receiving Barrage

BLUE SPRINGS, Mo., Nov. 5.—Fatally wounded by Alonso Hertog, town marshal who defended the door of the local telephone office against him early today, a prowler wrested the revolver from the marshal and killed him. Both were found dead in front of the door. Letters in the prowler's pockets indicated he was William S. Young, truck driver.

Mrs. Elsie Raymond, telephone operator, called the marshal when she heard a noise at the door and learned that a disorderly man had been in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Raymond heard Hertog on his arrival command the man to hold up his hands. Apparently the man refused as a shot was fired shortly afterwards and a moment later another was heard. Hertog called to Mrs. Raymond: "Call Dr. Tuttle, I am dying."

Hertog was wounded in the right side. Young was shot in the chest.

IMPORTANT CIVIL MATTER IN COURT

Railroad Suit Involves More Than Half-Million in Hearing Here.

In the hearing of the suit of E. J. Coyle et al vs. Charles E. Schaff, receiver of the M. K. and T. railroad, Ada breathed the excitement of the most important civil matter ever to be decided in the jurisdiction of the Pontotoc county district court room.

Before District Judge J. W. Bolen a battery of legal counsellors on both sides of this important civil matter began today to clear away the debris of legal entanglement and decide the fate of the suit.

Jurors were selected during the morning and the petition of the plaintiffs was being read to the jury at an early hour this afternoon. Several days is expected to be required to settle the suit.

Allegations set out in the statement of the action, charge that a cotton compress at Oklahoma City was destroyed March 29, 1921 and with it 8,500 bales of cotton were destroyed in the flames, estimated to approximate a value of $580,000 at the market price of that time. ALLIES ENDORSE PLAN OF REPARATION TEST

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON; Nov. 5.—State department advises today indicated that Great Britain, Italy and Belgium have reached an accord and favor a free and full reparations inquiry by a expert committee.

In effect the position of these three governments is understood to coincide with the views of the United States and to oppose the stand for a restricted inquiry taken by France.

This development indicating the formation of a new alignment of the European allies over the reparations question stimulated the hope here that eventually France also will accept the unrestricted program of inquiry rather than risk diplomatic isolation. Heretofore both Belgium and Italy have followed French lead in the reparations question. Administration spokesmen declined to indicate the probable attitude of the Washington government in case the French government maintains its position.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR McCALL FORMER CONGRESSMAN NAMED

WINCHESTER, Mass., Nov. 5.—Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Samuel W. McCall, 72, former governor and congressman, who died at his home here yesterday of pneumonia. He was widely known as a scholar in politics and for his independent course of action in his 20 years in congress. He was also known as a historian and lawyer.

Francis H. Sisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Co., expressed doubt as to whether Germany would be able to establish a stable currency before a settlement of the reparations question is reached, the Tribune said.

Unrestricted Killing of American Eagle Stirs up Resentment.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Unrestricted killing of American eagles in Alaska has stirred up a hornet's nest among naturalists and wild life enthusiasts.

The American Nature Association has taken up the cudgels against the law and, as the first move in a campaign for its repeal and for the protection of the rapidly vanishing American eagle, has issued an appeal to every school teacher in the United States to file a protest on behalf of his class.

The law, it is said, was passed on the ground that eagles live on salmon and thereby damage that industry, one of the most important in Alaska. But the Nature Association points out in reply that a salmon dies after spawning and the eagles eat the fish after they have died and after they have perpetuated their kind.

"One of the best places to see the American eagle is on your money and that will be the only place you can see it if the slaughter of this bird is kept up," says the American Nature Association's call. "No longer do the tourists to Alaska see these emblems of American liberty float above the forests and shoreline."

The law provides that when an eagle is killed the gunner may get 50 cents by cutting both feet from the bird and exhibiting them to any commissioner of Alaska with an affidavit.

"From 1917 to 1923, 36,000 eagle feet, cut from 18,000 birds have been checked and accounted for on the bounty records. Gunners with shotguns and long-range rifles have skirmished the Alaskan coasts and penetrated the interior to lay low the last living emblem of our national independence. Some eagles have been wounded and have not been caught. Many have fallen in inaccessible places where they could not be reached. A large number have been shot for sport by people who have not collected the bounties. It seems safe to say that instead of 18,000, approximately 25,000 American eagles have been killed since the campaign began.

"In Alaska where fish are abundant at certain seasons of the year, the bald eagle undoubtedly lives largely on salmon, but it is a well known fact in the life history of the salmon that it dies after spawning. The banks of streams are at times lined with the bodies of spawned-out fish which are carried away and eaten by these birds.

"With this recorded slaughter of 18,000 eagles, Alaskans may be sure there are not enough left to affect their supply of fish and game. The war on eagles should be discontinued before the last emblem of the American people is laid low.

"The eagle is a match for any animal his size. He stands firm before every earthly power except the hand of man. On June 20, 1762, the venerable white-headed bird of Washington, beloved by Americans, was adopted as the emblem of our country. Are the American people to be represented by a defunct species?"

MODERN STORY IN OLD-TIME SETTING

Although his new picture, "The White Rose," is a modern story, D. W. Griffith has it continually refer to the past and in making his "exteriors" has particularly chosen backgrounds that represent the South of some years gone by.

With his players in modern garb appearing against "atmosphere" of previous days, Mr. Griffith gains an extraordinary artistic effect.

He does not stop at this, giving his imagination some free rein, he stages a "costume" ball for one of his big scenes. It has direct bearing on the plot. The ball is attended by the very aristocracy of the South of the present day, but a youth less fortunate than the others.

In 1922 there were 30,799 convictions for drunkenness in London, 6410 of these being against women.

PREFACE

Pontotoc County is situated southeast of the center of the state. It is 756 square miles in area, is almost square in shape, and has a fairly level surface, broken only by a few small streams that are easily bridged and a small spur of the Arbuckle Mountains in the southern portion. With but few exceptions most highways are section lines.

The population of the county in 1920 was 30,323 nearly all of which are native born Americans of white parentage. It is mostly an agricultural country with some oil, gas, cement, and asphalt products; and with few small cities, the largest of which is Ada, located in the center of the county and has a population of 10,000.

The county is divided into 58 school districts with a scholastic population of 11,724. Five of these districts are independent, having four-year high school; three consolidated with four-year high school; eleven with two-year high school, and twenty-nine two-room schools and ten one-room schools. Twenty of these districts have homes erected for the teachers. The valuation of all the property belonging to the districts is $785,300.00. The total money spent on schools for the year was $302,994.94.

In 1922-23 the enrollment was 10,500 and the average daily attendance was 7,135. Of this number 8,250 enrolled in the grades and 1,250 in high school. The number of eight grade graduates was 475 and high school 130.

Ada is the home of the East Central State Teachers College, one of the most efficient teacher training institutions in the Southwest. Those pupils in the training school of the college as well as those doing high school or college work are not included in the enrollment figures given above. The enrollment of the College last year exceeded 3,100.

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. When the system is run down—the face drawn and haggard—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity suggest those that might have been gazed at with admiration.

Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S. S. S.—the rich blood builder—rekindles the spark of health and lights the blaze of beauty by building red blood cells. The nerve power of your system finds life in these very blood cells. Build more red blood cells and your nerve power will increase. S. S. S. builds them. Rich blood will tingle through your system. That lost charm will return. Your entire system will be repaired. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty so, too, does S. S. S. mean beauty. For S. S. S. means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema, rheumatism. S. S. S. and good health go hand in hand.

S. S. S. is made of pure vegetable ingredients. It is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

PERSONAL SELF GOVERNMENT: He that hat hno rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down and without walls.—Proverbs 25:28.

CONGRATULATIONS.

George Evans has just observed his twentieth anniversary at the helm of the Chickasha Express. He arrived on the scene early when Chickasha was only a small town and has had a hand in the upbuilding of the city and county of which he may well be proud.

We have been personally acquainted with George Evans for the past 17 years and have read his paper most of that time. It is a highly creditable publication and one of our most valued exchanges. Mr. Evans has always been recognized among the newspaper fraternity as one of its ablest members and his success is gratifying to his contemporaries.

In point of service on one paper George Evans is one of the oldest editors in Oklahoma. Probably not more than half a dozen papers in the state are in the hands of the men who owned them 20 years ago. There has been a great deal of shifting about and frequent changes, but George Evans has remained on the job. We hope to be here 20 years hence to congratulate him when he has been there 40 years.

The situation in Germany is not promising at this time, but it is to be hoped that a solution to her problems may yet be found. It is to the interest of the entire world that Germany again become a prosperous member of the family of nations. Nations are so closely linked together in this modern age of quick communication that when one suffers all feel the effects. Following the defeat of France in 1871 some very able statesmen came forward and brought the nation safely through the crisis and France was soon on her feet again. On the other hand, the men who took over the German government have proved themselves of very inferior ability and extremely short sighted. Naturally under such leadership the nation has drifted from bad to worse. Statesmanship is the greatest need of the nation at this time, for it is only by facing the realities of the many problems confronting the nation that it can survive.

The News long ago ceased to become excited over reports of oil strikes in the county and has sought the real facts in the case when a strike has been reported. Sometimes we have been raked over the coals by enthusiastic people for not playing it up big enough, but subsequent events have always proved the correctness of our position. While we are still going slow while awaiting further developments in the Clark & Gilbert strike near Vanoss, the reports we are hearing certainly sound good to us. We have always felt confident that sooner or later a big oil pool would be located somewhere in the county and it now looks as if the long expected day of its discovery had arrived. However, it is still too early to know just how much this strike will amount to, but here's hoping.

Dr. Bynum's testimony before the legislative investigating committee and published verbatim by the Oklahoman, reveals one of the most astounding situations on record. Sending agents to collect money from oil men and other capitalists to enable him to maintain a special legislative committee at the capital, pay for banquets and flowers for legislators, automobiles for his attaches and such purposes as detailed by Bynum is an act without excuse or palliation. In view of the fact that some of the big contributors were strong Republicans it is not likely that they paid their money because of any special love they had for Walton and his plans.

Walton's attempt to defend his pardon and parole record by saying that he had not been any freer in the exercise of his power than his predecessors is very poor argument. Under that line of reasoning a horse thief or bootlegger might ask to be freed because some others had escaped. The fact is however, that some of these men were too free. Robertson had just about as scandalous a record as Walton and one of the last acts of Bob Williams was to free a whole cavy yard of convicts by way of celebrating his birthday. The people were pretty well fed up on that sort of thing before Walton came along.

Luther Harrison in the Holdenville Democrat mentions a certain politician who some years ago after a victorious campaign wrote him a letter ascribing his victory to the support of the "unpurchasable press of Oklahoma." In a later campaign in which he was opposed by most of the papers and which ended disastrously for him he referred to the press as "the kept mistresses of plutocracy." Evidently the fact that the newspapers were not supporting him was proof that they had sold out to the other fellow.

Germany's efforts to avoid paying the reparations to the allies have apparently landed the nation in the middle of a bad fix. The country is in a turmoil and threatened with civil war and an appeal has been sent out for aid in feeding the hungry children. In 1871 France got down to honest business and soon paid the huge indemnity to Germany and resumed her daily routine.

SENATE HOPING TO SPEED TRIAL OF WALTON NOW

Hearing of Testimony on Separate Charges Would Be, Lengthy.

TRUCK USE PROBED

Federal Authority Seeking
New Angle in Use of Government Trucks.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 5.—The possibility that the trial of Gov. J. C. Walton before the senate court of impeachment might end this week was indicated in the expression today of several members of the senate anxious to avoid a lengthy hearing. A vote upon one of the 22 articles of impeachment if presented with the evidence, would make possible a brief session if the executive were found guilty it was pointed out.

Members of the house panel of managers in charge of the prosecution have this far planned to present all evidence supporting the 22 charges before asking the senate court for a vote. This procedure would necessitate a large number of witnesses being called by the prosecution and probably numerous witnesses by the defense.

"We are here to try Gov. Walton and pass upon anti-Ku Klux legislation," one senator said today. Of course, if the governor is not guilty of anyone of the charges all testimony would have to be heard and the trial necessarily long drawn out."

If testimony is taken on all charges the trial probably would continue more than a month.

Probe in Truck Use.

Committee investigations by the house over the week end are understood to have produced testimony indicating that trucks turned over to the state in the federal government were used for purposes not directly related to state activities. One state official, according to the report, testimony used a truck as a deposit on the purchase of his own automobile.

Barrooms in art are allowed to have been banished to Gov. Walton's famous inaugural in federal trucks, according to the testimony said to have been taken by the committee.

J. G. Findlay, federal bureau investigator, has asked the house committee for copies of its testimony, which was furnished him. It was stated.

Inquiry is also being directed to the charge that a truck was used to haul supplies from the state penitentiary to the United Miners' Workers' celebration at Harrison on labor day, a committee member said.

OFF-YEAR ELECTIONS SLATED FOR STATES

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Off-year elections to be held in scattering states tomorrow has aroused but little interest.

The principal election from a national standpoint is in Vermont where Porter H. Duke, republican, and Park H. Pollard, democrat, and a cousin to President Coolidge, are candidates to succeed the late Senator Dillingham.

Vermont also will choose one representative in Congress while New York will elect four representatives to fill vacancies. Maryland, Kentucky and Mississippi will elect governors.

Election of members of state legislatures will be held in New York, New Jersey and Maryland. New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio will hold referendums on state measures.

The only election of consequence in the west is in Oregon where a referendum on a state income tax measure, similar to the federal income tax law, will be voted upon.

A number of states will vote for minor officers and many cities in the East will elect mayors.

INSURANCE BONUS AT PERIOD CLOSE

Employees of Local Company to be Presented Paid-

Twenty-four employees of the Oklahoma Gas and Electric company here will receive without cost a paid-up insurance policy in an old-line insurance company at the completion of six month's employment today in the company. It was announced this morning by L. N. Garrison, district manager.

Garrison made the announcement today as the present ownership of the Ada property completed six months of operation of the local properties.

Other employees in this district will also receive the benefits of the employee group insurance arrangement offered by the Oklahoma Gas and Electric company. Eleven employees at Holdenville, seven at Sulphur, thirteen at Pauls Valley, six at Shawnee and three others for smaller towns in the district will share in the benefits of the arrangement made by the company.

Milk Producer's Convention To Discuss Co-operative Measures

PITTSBURG, PA., Nov. 5.—One thousand leaders of co-operative milk producers' associations will come to Pittsburgh for the seventh annual meeting of the National Milk Producers' Federation, November 8 and 9. They will discuss chiefly how to produce economically and distribute efficiently a high quality milk supply to the cities of America. They will also take up such questions as the national distribution through co-operative associations of butter, cheese and evaporated milk. In addition to the delegates a large number of agricultural editors and officials of federal and state extension services will attend.

"We have selected a battery of speakers nationally known for their knowledge of these problems," said Secretary Charles W. Holman of Washington, D. C., who is here making arrangements for the convention. "These men will give the results of mature experience. The program covers a range of topics such as the control of motor trucking of milk, the use of statistics by co-operative associations in selling dairy products, maintaining an efficient staff of employees, how to operate pooling associations and the development of co-operative dairy marketing in various districts during the year."

The national federation is said to be the outstanding national organization among co-ops in the country and the oldest. It extends from coast to coast and represents 250,000 organized milk producers who sell their products through 27 regional co-operative associations. In all there are one statewide federation representing about 200 co-operative creameries as a member.

Through co-operative marketing, established regularly, and through national protective organization, represented by the federation, they have taken steps to aid the dairy farmers.

The National Milk Producers' Federation took the initiative in securing the passage of the Capper-Volstead law authorizing farmers' co-operative associations to form and do business in interstate com-

Unrestricted Killing of American Eagle Stirs up Resentment.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Unrestricted killing of American eagles in Alaska has stirred up a hornet's nest among naturalists and wild life enthusiasts.

The American Nature Association has taken up the cudgels against the law and, as the first move in a campaign for its repeal and for the protection of the rapidly vanishing American eagle, has issued an appeal to every school teacher for the bounty records. Gunners in the United States to file a protest on behalf of his class. The law, it is said, was passed on the ground that eagles live on salmon and thereby damage that industry, one of the most important in Alaska. But the Nature Association points out in reply that a salmon dies after spawning and the salmon eat the fish after they have died and after they have perpetuated their kind.

"One of the best places to see the American eagle is on your mo-ey and that will be the only place you can see it if the slaughter of this bird is kept up," says the American Nature Association's call.

"No longer do the tourists to Alaska see these emblems of American liberty float above the forests and haves kirmished the Alaskan coasts and penetrated the interior to lay low the last living emblem of our national independence. Some eagles have been wounded and have not been caught. Many have fallen in inaccessible places where they could not be reached. A large number have been shot for sport by people who have not collected the bounties. "It seems safe to say that instead of 18,000, approximately 25, 000 American eagles have been killed since the campaign began.

"In Alaska where fish are abundant at certain seasons of the year, the bald eagle undoubtedly lives largely on salmon, but it is a well known fact in the life history of the salmon that it dies after spawning. The banks of streams are at times lined with the bodies of spawned-out fish which are carried away and eaten by these birds.

"With this recorded slaughter of 18,000 eagles, Alaskans may be sure there are not enough left to affect their supply of fish and game. The war on eagles should be discontinued before the last emblem of the American people is laid low.

"The eagle is a match for any animal his size. He stands firm and before every earthly power except the hand of man. On June 20, 1762, the venerable white-headed bird of Washington, beloved by Americans, was adopted as the emblem of our country. Are the American people to be represented by a defunct species?"

MODERN STORY IN OLD-TIME SETTING

Although his new picture, "The White Rose," is a modern story, D. W. Griffith has it continually refer to the past and in making his "exteriors" has particularly chosen backgrounds that represent the South of some years gone by. With his players in modern garb appearing against "atmosphere" of previous days, Mr. Griffith gains an extraordinary artistic effect.

He does not stop at this. Giving his imagination some free rein, he stages a "costume" ball for one of his big scenes. It has direct bearing on the plot. The ball is attended by the very aristocracy of the South of the present day, but a youth less fortunate than the others.

In 1922 there were 30,799 convictions for drunkenness in London, 6410 of these being against

LONDON BREADS ITS FOGS

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON.—As the season of fog approaches, people here are recall-

They keep sunlight away from the city dwellers, deposit enormous quantities of soot broadcast over everything, and a single bad London fog costs the capital $5,000,000 in extra laundering, and injury of fabrics.

A neglected cough—The beginning of many a dangerous disease

You can quickly stop that exhausting cough that lays you open to disease.

WHEN your strength is exhausted and the delicate tissues of your throat and lungs are raw and sore from coughing, you may fall an easy prey to disease—bronchitis, pneumonia, even tuberculosis. That is why it is so important to break up cough promptly.

For more than fifty years thousands of families have relied upon Dr. King's New Discovery to stop coughs. It does this quickly and naturally without any bad after-effects whatsoever, by stimulating the mucous membranes to throw off the clogging secretions. It has an agreeable taste. All druggists.

PREFACE

Pontotoc County is situated southeast of the center of the state. It is 756 square miles in area, is almost square in shape, and has a fairly level surface, broken only by a few small streams that are easily bridged and a small spur of the Arbuckle Mountains in the southern portion. With but few exceptions most highways are section lines.

The population of the county in 1920 was 30,323 nearly all of which are native born Americans of white parentage. It is mostly an agricultural county with some oil, gas, cement, and asphalt products; and with few small cities, the largest of which is Ada, located in the center of the county and has a population of 10,000.

The county is divided into 53 school districts with a scholastic population of 11,724. Five of these districts are independent, having four-year high school; three consolidated with four-year high school; eleven with two-year high school, and twenty-nine two-room schools and ten one-room schools. Twenty of these districts have homes erected for the teachers. The valuation of all the property belonging to the districts is $785,300.00. The total money spent on schools for the year was $102,994.94.

In 1922 the enrollment was 15,500 and the average daily attendance was 7,135. Of this number 8,250 enrolled in the grades and 1,250 in high school. The number of eighth grade graduates was 475 and high school 130.

Ada is the home of the East Central State Teachers College, one of the most efficient teacher training institutions in the Southwest. Those pupils in the training school of the college as well as those doing high school or college work are not included in the enrollment figures given above. The enrollment of the College last year exceeded 3,100.

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. Where the system is rundown—the face drawn and haggard—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity supplant those that might have been gazes of admiration.

Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S. S. S.—the rich blood builder—rekindles the spark of health and lights the blaze of beauty by building red blood cells. The nerve power of your system finds life in these very blood cells. Build more red blood cells and your nerve power will increase. S. S. S. builds them. Rich blood will tingle through your system. That lost charm will return. Your entire system will be repaired. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty, so, too, does S. S. S. mean beauty. For S. S. S. means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema, rheumatism. S. S. S. and good health go hand in hand.

S. S. S. is made of pure vegetable ingredients. It is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

PERSONAL SELF GOVERNMENT: He that hat hno rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down and without walls.—Proverbs 25:28.

CONGRATULATIONS.

George Evans has just observed his twentieth anniversary at the helm of the Chickasha Express. He arrived on the scene early when Chickasha was only a small town and has had a hand in the upbuilding of the city and county of which he may well be proud.

We have been personally acquainted with George Evans for the past 17 years and have read his paper most of that time. It is a highly creditable publication and one of our most valued exchanges. Mr. Evans has always been recognized among the newspaper fraternity as one of its ablest members and his success is gratifying to his contemporaries.

In point of service on one paper George Evans is one of the oldest editors in Oklahoma. Probably not more than half a dozen papers in the state are in the hands of the men who owned them 20 years ago. There has been a great deal of shifting about and frequent changes, but George Evans has remained on the job. We hope to be here 20 years hence to congratulate him when he has been there 40 years.

The situation in Germany is not promising at this time, but it is to be hoped that a solution to her problems may yet be found. It is to the interest of the entire world that Germany again become a prosperous member of the family of nations. Nations are so closely linked together in this modern age of quick communication that when one suffers all feel the effects. Following the defeat of France in 1871 some very able statesmen came forward and brought the nation safely through the crisis and France was soon on her feet again. On the other hand, the men who took over the German government have proved themselves of very inferior ability and extremely short sighted. Naturally under such leadership the nation has drifted from bad to worse. Statesmanship is the greatest need of the nation at this time, for it is only by facing the realities of the many problems confronting the nation that it can survive.

The News long ago ceased to become excited over reports of oil strikes in the county and has sought the real facts in the case when a strike has been reported. Sometimes we have been raked over the coals by enthusiastic people for not playing it up big enough, but subsequent events have always proved the correctness of our position. While we are still going slow while awaiting further developments in the Clark & Gilbert strike near Vanoss, the reports we are hearing certainly sound good to us. We have always felt confident that sooner or later a big oil pool would be located somewhere in the county and it now looks as if the long expected day of its discovery had arrived. However, it is still too early to know just how much this strike will amount to, but here's hoping.

Dr. Bynum's testimony before the legislative investigating committee and published verbatim by the Oklahoman, reveals one of the most astounding situations on record. Sending agents to collect money from oil men and other capitalists to enable him to maintain a special legislative committee at the capital, pay for banquets and flowers for legislators, automobiles for his attaches and such purposes as detailed by Bynum is an act without excuse or palliation. In view of the fact that some of the big contributors were strong Republicans it is not likely that they paid their money because of any special love they had for Walton and his plans.

Walton's attempt to defend his pardon and parole record by saying that he had not been any freer in the exercise of his power than his predecessors is very poor argument. Under that line of reasoning a horse thief or bootlegger might ask to be freed because some others had escaped. The fact is however, that some of these men were too free. Robertson had just about as scandalous a record as Walton and one of the last acts of Bob Williams was to free a whole cavy yard of convicts by way of celebrating his birthday. The people were pretty well fed up on that sort of thing before Walton came along.

Luther Harrison in the Holdenville Democrat mentions a certain politician who some years ago after a victorious campaign wrote him a letter ascribing his victory to the support of the "unpurchasable press of Oklahoma." In a later campaign in which he was opposed by most of the papers and which ended disastrously for him he referred to the press as "the kept mistresses of plutocracy." Evidently the fact that the newspapers were not supporting him was proof that they had sold out to the other fellow.

Germany's efforts to avoid paying the reparations to the allies have apparently landed the nation in the middle of a bad fix. The country is in a turmoil and threatened with civil war and an appeal has been sent out for aid in feeding the hungry children. In 1871 France got down to honest business and soon paid the huge indemnity to Germany and resumed her daily routine.

YOUR CAREER

A fondness for pie made Harry Houdini the Handcuff King. You've seen him in vaudeville and the movies.

Houdini was born and raised in Appleton, Wis., in the heart of a berry district. His mother made wonderful pies out of the berries. She kept a large supply on hand—locked in the pantry.

The boy never lived, of course, who didn't pick a lock to get at a pie, cake, doughnut or jam. Houdini experimenting with such crude tools as hairpins—discovered that he had a natural talent for picking locks.

So the berry pies started him on his stage career.

Houdini has never been foiled at freeing himself when locked up. His closest escape was in Scotland, where the old turnkey of a prison shut him in a cell and chuckled as he went away. Houdini tried all his tricks. But he couldn't get the door unlocked. After several hours, he gave up in despair, realizing that his reputation was due for a smash. Exhausted, he leaned against the door—and fell out into the corridor.

The canny old turnkey had not locked the cell door at all.

Many of us, some time or other in our careers have been that close to failure—to giving up the right—Only to find that the solution of our difficulty was simple, once we found it.

Something more than fondness for berry pies made Houdini the Handcuff King. That something was fate. It was born in him, the destiny to make his living by such theatrical feats as freeing himself from locks and other bonds.

Each of us comes into this world destined to do certain things. If we follow that natural inclination, we usually meet success. If we err and get into the "wrong line," we become successful only by almost superhuman will power.

Many of us, cursing luck for failure in life, are the victims of well meaning but stupid parents who guided us into the wrong trade or profession.

It is folly for a father or mother to try to make a lawyer out of Willie when Willie's natural bent is exhibited by his youthful craving to doctor cats and hang around hospitals.

The child, left to itself, soon discovers what it wants to be in life. This is true, from art to all forms of manual labor.

Interesting to reflect back over your career—what started you on the road, you are following for a livelihood. If you had it to do over again, would you take the same road?

It's marvelous, the way people's inclinations vary so that all of us do not want to be, for instance dentists. In nearly every line of work there's always a surplus of followers—and a good thing, this competition. But in a general way our inclinations differ so that there are just enough to handle each line of work.

Cynics, who doubt that a wise Super Intelligence is guiding us, might ponder this.

Rights Of Water And Land Forbidden In New Mexican Court Decision

(By the Associated Press) MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26.—Land and water rights in Mexico of foreigners are vitally affected by a recent supreme court decision interpreting the famous Article 27 of the Mexican Constitution of 1917, which played an important part in last summer's pre-recogniton conference.

The decision, although it does not touch upon that part of Article 27 which nationalizes sub-soil petroleum rights, sets forth, broadly speaking, the principle that although foreigners may comply fully with the provisions of the law affecting the acquisition of land and water rights in Mexico, it is within the power of the ministry of foreign relations to refuse to sanction their titles if such refusal is deemed to the national interest.

It also places upon that ministry the immense responsibility of regulating in the interests of the republic the development by foreign capital of the immense sources of national wealth comprised within the term land and water rights, and in a measure regulating the investment of foreign capital in Mexico.

The court's finding, regarded as being of superlative importance to foreign interests in Mexico, especially since it is accepted as a possible indication of the bench's attitude toward foreign oil rights, came as a result of an appeal of the Bacis Gold and Silver Mining Co., Ltd., of Durango, against acts of ministry of foreign relations alleged to be in violation of Articles 14 and 27, Fraction 1, of the constitution.

The company declared that in 1896, while the Bacis river was under the jurisdiction of the Durango state government, it secured a concession to use the waters of the river in operating a power plant, and when the Bacis passed under federal jurisdiction it complied with all legal requirements to have the concession approved by the federal government. These included the waiving of the company's rights to appeal to the United States government for protection of its interests and an agreement to consider itself a Mexican corporation insofar as the water power concession was concerned.

When the foreign office refused to sanction the concession appeal was had to the Supreme Court. The court held, in effect, that:

Mexican citizens, by birth or naturalization, have the "right" to acquire land and water rights; but foreigners, under the court's interpretation of the state of mind which dominated the constituent assembly in framing Article 27, have not this "right," even though they comply with every legal requirement, since the article authorizes the state through the foreign office, to decide whether it is to the public interest to sanction such land and water rights as may be petitioned by foreigners and to sanction such rights, not because of any mandatory feature of the article, but as a "faculty, act of favor or grace."
